Ricky,i met you at cdg and i'll always remember you. you always came into my office and would talk and talk about anything. i really miss that. you had a really big heart and a great sense of humor. i don't know what really happened that night of april 21, but i do know it wasn't meant to be. you were to young and to sweet to have this happen. i will always remember you and please know that you are loved by so many and thought of everyday. I know i didn't know you very well jessica and katie but i am very truly sorry. and to alan you know i love you and you can always come to me for anything. to his parents you have a great loving son and this is coming from someone who only got to know him for a short time. he will always live on.##imported-begin##Erin Snavelly##imported-end##

You were one of the most important people in my life.... and deffinatly the closest. There will never be a soul in the world that could ever take your place Ricky, life is going to be sooo hard without you that you dont even know. I feel like im still sitting here waiting for you to come home, just so i can tell you all the people that came to our house the day we found out the news... the whole family... and you know thats huge. the whole street lined up and down with cars just for you, because that is just a little taste of how many people care about you and love you with all of their hearts. there is still so much that we havent gone thru together. your 2 yrs older than me, my big brother, who i love more than anything in the world. you were supposed to be there when i graduate and grow up with me, teach me more good from bad even if sometimes you were doing the bad things. you have always taught me right from wrong and been there when i needed you. All these damn lies in the newspaper about you, dont even listen to it... we know what really happend, wether they want to put it out there or not, u know they have to make you look bad just so that they dont. but we no... man, my boy, cant wait till the day that i meet with you again, i no u'll always be here watching over us, and protecting us, right next to papa bob. i hope that your okay and you know that i gotch your back bub just like you always had mine... you are forever loved more than anything in the world to not only me, but more than you could ever imagine boy.Love##imported-begin##Jessie ##imported-end##

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Quintero, Jessica & Kayla, With sincerest condolences and great sadness, I am writing to offer my support and prayers. I am praying that the Lord has a special angel watching over each of you as you face the upcoming days without Ricky's physical presence. I hope you find some comfort in knowing Ricky is still with each of you in a special way. His body was laid to rest, his soul passed on to a much better life, but his spirit remains here with you, (and with all of us), whom Ricky touched. Please know, you are not alone, many share your grief. It has been many years, since I have seen Ricky, but I shall never forget his 6th grade smile. Thank you for letting me share Ricky with you for a year. God Bless You, Kathy Misze

Shelly, I am so sorry about your loss.I don't know if you will remember me, I worked with you at Wesco years ago. I also saw you at the hospital when I had an ultrasound done and I kept insisting that I recognized you from somewhere...I work with Becky Katzenbach and she told me the connection you have. Last Friday, April 20, my one and only child, Jodi Lockett died (see obituary) if you need to talk I would love too, we are going through the same things. My daughter was 19 also. My grief is tremendous, my thoughts are all over....If you want to talk to someone who is feeling the same way you can call me.
