Mom, You are an Amazing Mother . . . and a Wonderful Friend You were my greatest source of strength growing up. I have always looked up to you and admired your qualities, wishing and hoping that I, too, could one day be the kind of person you are. To list all the things I love most about you wouldn't begin to fit within these lines, but know that you are someone I respect beyond anything else in this world. From the bottom of my heart, I think you for everything your incredible parenting has given me... a sense of self-worth, determination and faith in myself. As for your friendship... you have shown me that someone can be both a parent and a confidant. There is nothing I couldn't share with you. Any fears or my larger-than-life dreams... you would always listen to my heart and encourage me in any way you could. When I see the kind of woman you are, it makes me feel so good inside to have had such a wonderful example of what a mother and friend should be. It is this example that I have tried to follow throughout my life and yet still have not measured up. You should be proud of yourself, Mom... of your accomplishments as an amazing mother and as someone I am fortunate enough to call my best friend. I love you very much and miss you terribly.##imported-begin##Cindy Flowers##imported-end##

E-ema~ I am 4 years old and my momma will be typing what I have to say about you...I had fun with her. I played cars with her. I played with the dogs with her. I made her a card. I gave her hugs and kisses and watched tv with her. I ate with her and she would give me pretzles and goldfish crackers that she kept by her chair..I love you E-ema and I will miss her##imported-begin##Brayden Selent##imported-end##

Grandma~ What can I say about her she was truley my second mother. She raised me like her own for many years. I am so thankul for the years my mother and I lived with her. I can still remember getting up at 5:00 a.m. and seeing her face and right away she would put on my favorite tv shows for me. Getting off the bus in the afternoon she would be waiting right there with dinner almost ready on the table. I can still remember the country music she would have playing in the kitchen and her voice...wow! she could sing. Grandma was the sweetest person I knew she would give you anything she had all you had to do was ask. I can remember after her stroke they said she would never be the same again. Well that was true, but not in the same way they were saying. Grandma was tough and she learned how to do everything all over again and boy did her personality change. Good thing because she never would have made it as long as she had. What a fighter, determined, loving and beautiful woman. I love you grandma and I will never forget you. I'm sorry grandma that I didn't have my little girl in time for you to see her. I promised that if I had one that I would give her your middle name in honor of you. If I'm blessed with a girl I still promise I will give her your middle name in memory of you.I love you grandma!###imported-begin###Krista Selent###imported-end##
