Both of my children, Emma and Ian Davis, were so lucky to have had "Sculley" (and George) as their daycare provider. I never had to worry about anything because they were in the best hands ever!! They made lifelong friends there and had such a special early/pre-school experience with both of these beautiful souls. My condolences to the family. You were blessed with such wonderful parents.....Fondly, Cathy Workman

I was very sad to hear of "Sculley's" passing, but it also brought back some happy memories of when my daughter, Eva, was a baby. Cleo (and George) were the only home we found to accept infants for day care, while my wife and I worked. Eva shared her young life with the Sculleys and the other "Sculley kids." Cleo and George were a God-send to us and deeply appreciated for their help bringing her up through those early years. I'm glad that I remained somewhat in touch with Cleo through the years, thanks to John's devotion to his Mom. John would drive Cleo around through the Bluffton neighborhood and would stop to chat a bit. The Sculley's will be sorely missed, but the memories of Cleo's and George's soft personalities and caring hearts won't be forgotten. My sincere condolences and best wishes to John and the Sculley family, Peter Sartorius.

Thinking of the entire Sculley family. So many memories at the Sculley house - especially of our daycare routine of playing outside, watching the one hour of TV we were allowed (Price is Right), then eating Spaghetti Os and chocolate ice cream for lunch. "Sculley" really was the best and such a special part of so many childhoods! Love to you all, Emma Torresen

I'm so sorry to hear of Cleo's passing. She had a wonderful sense of humor, and was such an attractive woman. Sad that the Wierema cousins have not been together for a long time, although it was frequently on my mind. May God ease your sorrows. Peggy and David Dolislager
