My mom was not only my mother but my shoulder, mentor, counselor, and my best friend. She loved being a mom, her world was her children. Even when she got Alzheimer's she still always worried about her kids. She was a very very smart lady, her and my dad loved jeopardy and did cross word puzzles together I swear I could look at one for hours and fill in a few but they always finished them in no time. My parents were very amazing people who loved and cared for people. They were always were mom and dad or Grandma and Grandpa to so many people. Everywhere I go people say your Larry and Maxine's daughter I say absolutely I wouldn't want it any other way. I know my parents are no longer suffering from this crazy world they are in God's hands waiting to hear the words wake up. When that happens they will know that made it into paradise.
