A ton of memories but the one that forever stands out is your zest for life and your laughter.... but the one even more cherished is your love for your child and grand babies. So blessed you was able to be surrounded by them to the very end...you left with such grace and leaving them the peace they needed to stay strong and to continue on...you will be missed by many but most of all was loved by even more....Ride high in the heavens and guide them ALWAYS....you will be a hard one to forget sassy Lady.
