I have known Bob through his wife Diana (who I met through our church) when I moved here 15 years ago. He was always such a gentleman- kind, and caring of his wife, and he always made me feel so welcome. In fact, he and Diana would invite me to lunch with them, and he drove and told his stories which were so interesting and entertaining that I was always kind of sorry when we reached our destination. He was the kind of man that projected kindness, caring, and warmth with a sharp intelligence. He will be sorely missed.

Red was a true friend, old school and had a very big heart. We enjoyed camping in Baldwin with him, every Blessing of the bikes and troutarama. We'd cook over the open fire and roast marshmallows. We will miss him..
