My Grandma was so sweet, kind, funny, witty, firey, and smart. I loved her personality and her rice pudding. I loved how she laughed a lot and loved to make people laugh. I loved how full of life and sharp she was. I love how she would spend hours listening to me and helping me through a very difficult time. I loved that she loved so many people, and others loved her. I loved that she was real and down to earth...she was straight forward and said things like they were. I loved how GOOD she was. She had a really good heart and good morals. She was a strong wonderful person and I miss her so much. I love you and miss you grandma....."until we meet again".

Mrs. Carson was the best neighbor anyone could grow up next to. I will never forget the times we shared with not only her, but her family also. She was a great lady and will be missed deeply. There were so many great time and laughs between the families:)Jenny Hilton(Archambault)
