Thank you, Ruth. I still wish I could talk to Grandma and play some cards or Aggravation with her.

It still doesn't even seem real that Grandma is no longer here on Earth with us. Every time I see a picture of her or hear, see or do something that reminds me of her, it just doesn't feel real. She lived her entire life doing whatever she could for everyone else. Her great advice, listening ear, love of her family and friends, patience, understanding, wonderful cooking & baking, no holds barred playing of cards and games (no matter who she was playing), zest for life and her amazing sense of humor are just a few of the things I am going to miss. From the short visits to the long phone calls and everything in between, there is not a moment spent with her that I do not cherish. While I am heartbroken, sad, still in disbelief, I KNOW that she is HAPPY now. Set free from all things of the flesh and is enjoying her eternal life in heaven with Grandpa, her brother and sisters that got there first, so many other family members and friends and her great, great grandson Elijah. My heart goes out to all of us that she has left behind, but most of all to my mom, who not only lost her mom, but her life long best friend.

Dear Connie and Family, Thinking back on all the good times I had working for your mom at the Bakery. You would bring in your 3 little girls and your mom's face would just light up when she saw them. She taught me a lot of good things I still use today. Sorry I lost touch with her after she moved from Egelcraft Park but didn't know where she had moved to. Wishing you peace and comfort in the memories you have and in the days ahead.

Hi Patty. I'm the oldest of those three little girls. Grandma was an amazing woman and an even more amazing grandmother. Her legacy lives on - she was such a wonderful example and I'm doing the best I can to live up to that with my own granddaughters, making wonderful memories with each of them, making sure they both know that they are my favorite, teaching them how to cook and bake and be strong independent hard working women and at the same time to show their love and respect to others.
