To my sister, You are a true angel to me and your family and I'm grateful to you more than words can express. Few people have the considerate, unselfish, loving heart you have and fewer are willing to give so much of themselves. I thank u for always being the wonderful fun loving and amazing sister and I know I'm blessed to have you in my life missing you today, tomorrow and always rest in power! your loving sisters Unita, Brenda, Yvonne and Margie

It's as if no time had passed in the 40+ years since Niecey and I had a real pow wow. We just picked up where we left off. Talking with her no holds barred, about anything and everything is what I'll miss most. I'm so grateful that God gave us an opportunity to reconnect. She stirred up memories that made us laugh so hard we cried and emotions that left me feeling lifted long after we'd hung up. I'll miss her forever. Rest In Peace cous'. Well Done. I met Evelyn through my wife. And even though I didn't get the pleasure of knowing her for a lifetime, it felt like it. One of the sweetest most loving people ever. Mary and I will never be the same without her. Forever in our hearts ❤️.

You were the aunt that taught me about being a lady. Not only about the way they carry themselves, but also the things a lady should have. You got me my first gold ring and told me not to lose it. And of course I lost it. You snapped! But you made me feel better after the sting wore off of your disappointment, you're the reason i love jewelry today. I remember playing in your Avon lotions and spraying your perfumes on. And you never got mad, but you made sure to always get me some for my birthday. Your love for animals used to make me so excited to come to your house. Whenever Teaira wasn't around I made your dogs play with me until you told me to leave them alone. And I couldn't ever use more than one paper towel at your house. Back then I never understood some of your ways, but now as being a mother, I can think back on these memories and laugh cause I'm the same way with mine. It hurts so bad that I can't remind you of these moments that shaped my relationship with you, we can't laugh til our faces hurt over a margarita. But I'm praying everyday that you remember them. And one day, we can laugh together again. I didn't really understand how precious family is to me. I know now that we can't choose our family, but our family was made for a reason and a purpose and God's perfect plan has no flaws. I love you aunty.

Evelyn was a beautiful soul that lived her purpose in life to the fullest. It was a great honor and pleasure to collaborate with her on many initiatives through work in our community. She was an invested and dedicated worker. I am thankful to have known her for well over 40 years, she was always the same!! That smile would light up my dark paths in the lives of many. See you on that Great getting up morning. Evangelist Eileen Allen
