Joanne Morrison posted:

In putting together the album about my sister, it brought back many memories. We did fight but we always made up. I think that is what sisters do. Often as we get older we grow closer and cherish the shared memories of childhood and know that we both carry the echoes of our mother's voice. Toni Morrison said that "A sister can be seen as someone who is both ourselves and very much not ourselves - a special kind of double. I shall miss that special kind of double. Joanne
