“ I knew Drew in High School and was one of the most intelligent people I have ever met. He always went against the grain; i admired how he lived life on his own terms. Hope to see you again someday...

“ Drew was a delightful, intelligent young man. I first met Drew when he and my son were in high school. I later, much later, met Drew, again, at another school house. I so enjoyed listening to his thoughts, his love for his niece, nephew, and sister. I am so sadden for his passing. May God hold him and his earthly family in His hands. My prayers and sympathy be with you all.
