“ You were the best dad I could've asked for. I'm going to miss hunting, fishing, playing baseball and guitar with you and just being with you. Thank you for everything you ever did for me and with me. I'm grateful for everything you taught me about fishing and baseball and guitar. You taught me most of what I knew about fishing and baseball and guitar. I miss you a lot and I'm happy that you are at least not in any pain anymore. I know you are catching big bass and hitting home runs up in the sky. I love you and miss you Dad, Charley.

“ Sending my deepest sympathies to Jake’s family & friends. I worked at D&W with Jake for several years. I was in the service department & he was in produce. He was so nice! I loved chatting with him when I had the chance. I haven’t worked since last year and I just found out about his illness & his passing. My heart is so sad. I will be praying for the family.

“ Jake was a good father to our son Charley. He taught him to fish, play guitar, and play ball. Charley shares his passion for music, the outdoors, and the Tigers. Charley Carrie's his dad with him. Thinking of the family.

“ I will always remember my cousin as a Die hard tigers fan and a an awesome bass fisherman I also will not forget how lucky I was to fish in a couple bass tournaments with him jake was very competitive when it came to fishing bass tournaments I remember one time I lost a bass he was a little upset and said that could have been the money fish. “ Jakey, the hard part is done for you and just beginning for us. Heaven got another good one. I chose this photo because it captures your essence so well. I know Boomer and Snickers were happy to see their Dad, and I hope you are spending QT with your dad. I bet you are going to love the acoustics wherever you are. We celebrate your life and spirit and we will never forget. You are in our hearts forever. You will be sorely missed. <3

“ I can't think of a better sentiment than to know him was to love him. I loved Jake the first time I meet him. His funny sense of humor, we talked for hours about politics, music and boy was he smart. I mostly loved the way his eyes sparkled and the smile on his face when he looked at my sister or talked about her. The love he had for Julie was boundless and her for him. He was the kindest, sweetest, caring teddy bear of a man. He was such an amazing friend, husband and father. I love you my sister.

“ I remember meeting Jake years ago at Bryan Rebh's home & I remember thinking how perfect he was for Julie. Big teddy bear of a guy! They loved baseball & following their Detroit Tigers!

“ So many memories of Jake flipping me out of the inner tube in the pool as well as camping and bass fishing and how to eat pancakes without using maple syrup. Now I remember the last time during the Covid at D&W where I couldn't hug him just bump elbows. I know I'll see him again but until then, I Love U Jake!
